SNAKE'S SYNOPSIS:

Sometimes when watching film, you kind of get lost in a player. You start viewing all the various outlets of tape snippets and an hour later realize you burned your dinner on the stove. Not your fault Jaidon! We sure do get a lot of high-quality wide receivers coming out of the 2-6-0, don't we? Somehow, each one is different. Jaidon VanPelt may be one of the best wide receivers that I have watched on tape this year. When you are looking at a player for a recruiting article, you are kind of thinking of how one may project at the collegiate level. When I watch VanPelt I feel like I am watching college football on a Saturday afternoon. He checks all of the boxes: Quick feet. Breakaway speed. Separation. Deep route tree. Wins contested catches. Uses body well on in-and-out breaking routes. High IQ. Equally good out of the backfield. And oh yeah, he run-blocks well too. This is a blue chip cannot-miss prospect (in my opinion) playing under one of the best play-callers in the area. Coach Andy Papagiannis at Carroll raved about his junior wideout and said he expects more offers to come his way. I concur, coach Papi! Jaidon VanPelt is the real deal and a name you will be hearing regularly on a fall Saturday someday soon.

EYEBALLING:

[ Carson Feichter, TE ]

HOMESTEAD

This 6-1, 205-pound tight end is starting to come into his own. He is getting more into his offensive position and will continue to improve in his pass-catching ability and physicality. Feichter's stock is rising.

[ Jaylen White, DB/WR ]

BISHOP LUERS

Offered by Ohio Dominican, this 6-2 DB is long and physical at the LOS. Listed as a c/o '25 player to watch by several sources, and a Top-3 DB at the Best of the Midwest showcase, White should see more offers.
